

I am against any weakening of the "do not call" list. It has been wonderful to be able to sit through a meal without phone calls that I do not want from telemarketers.

I don't understand why they would want to call people that do not want them to call! I guarantee they will not receive polite reception if the "no call" list is weakened and they try to call me. Further, I promise to boycott any business that calls me at home!